

Opening the Doors for Veterans

Veteran's Baccalaureate Program

The Veteran's Baccalaureate Program is designed through a grant from Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) for veterans or reservists with medical experience who have been honorably or generally discharged.

The program's curriculum leads to the Bachelor of Science degree with a major in Nursing.

- Are you a veteran or reservist with enlisted medical training?
- Do you feel you may need support transitioning from soldier to student?
- Do you have medical skills or training that you are not using?
- Are you interested in a career in nursing?

To apply, visit:

www.nursing.stonybrookmedicine.edu

The nursing major draws on previous veteran's service in the military and/or reserves, leading the student to use theory and utilize nursing process to provide health promotion, health maintenance and restoration for diverse populations of patients.

Stony Brook University Hospital is utilized as a clinical site, along with various other settings.

The benefits of being enrolled in this special program:

- Expanded support services
- Individualized advisement and mentorship
- Enhanced access to our veteran friendly campus based
- Advance educational technology and technological support
